

Ryzom - Bug # 1343

Status:	New	Priority:	Normal
Author:	hook	Category:	OS: GNU/Linux
Created:	08/14/2011	Assignee:
Updated:	08/16/2011	Due date:
Subject:	Content in Help window not show
Description
When accessing in game help through Help → Help, where the help content should be, there is just a short error like e.g. "Error: The page address is malformed: file:/gamedev.bnp@help_en.html" With the help of Kaetemi I have tried what happens when I place a simple HTML file in the 'data/' folder and in that case all that happens is that the error changes to e.g. "Error: The page address is malformed: file:/data/help_en.html". Otherwise the in game browser seems to work — I tested it on E-mail, Forum etc. and the Help window is the only ones that doesn't. Also 'log.log' doesn't mention any error or warning regarding this bug.

History

#1 - 08/15/2011 09:58 am - kervala

It seems like local HTML files can't be parsed by libwww because to a crash while passing FILE* as custom pointer.

Can I help pin-point this bug in any way?

#3 - 08/16/2011 12:40 am - hook

I tried what happens if I install libwww-5.4.0 ...and the answer is as short as annoying: nothing — the bug persists.
