Updated:	05/28/2010	Due date:
Subject:	Crash when updating Windows 7 progress bar
Description
When a DLL does a call to a method which uses a COM object initialized in another DLL, it crashes. It didn't appears before because sound driver didn't initialize COM. We should create a new singleton to implement system dependent progress notifications and do all necessary checks.
